Dr. Thompson was born in Cincinnati, OH. He received his B.A. from DePaw University in Indiana and graduated from Ohio State University College of Medicine in 1971. He did his residency in otolaryngology at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh and his fellowship at the University of California at Irvine. He has been at Wake Forest since 1979 and, in 1994, became dean of the medical school. During his time here at Wake Forest, he has been honored with many recognitions including Physician Assistant Award for Teaching, School of Medicine Clinical Teaching Excellence Award, and the Honor Award from the American Academy of Otolaryngology. He has been a member of over 100 committees and written over 14 book chapters and over 30 journal articles.

No matter how good he looks on paper, however, none of that compares to the man himself. He is married to Carol Washburn with whom he has raised four children--Carrie, David, Victoria and Deborah. This year he and his wife have become first time grandparents times two!!

Dedication

A few remarks from the class of 2002

"--for his genuine, passionate, and unending dedication to the mission of WFUSM."

"...for his unique dedication to and love for our class"

"...because I will never forget his speech during our orientation--his words of encouragement and love of medicine"

Although, Dr. Thompson has stepped down from his position as dean, he has not slowed down. This year he is in charge of the United Way Campaign.

The 2002 Gray Matter is being dedicated to a mentor, a teacher and a friend of the class of 2002. We are proud that he served as our dean. We are inspired by his love of medicine and encouraged by his spirit. We wish him luck in his future endeavors and look forward to learning even more from him in his new roles with the United Way Campaign and as a grandfather.

James Thompson, M.D.

Lynn Snyder

"The door is always open" is one of the hallmarks of Lynn's dedication to the students of Wake Forest University School of Medicine. Although she has enough work to keep her busy for years, she always pauses to listen to students and to answer questions. She began working for Wake Forest in 1976 and was appointed registrar in 1997. Officially, Lynn helps students by planning third and fourth year schedules, helping with residency applications and the Match. Unofficially, she serves as a guidance counselor and friend.

She is approachable, generous and genuine. The class of 2002 wishes to thank her for all of her hard work and for always being there when we need her. She is truly an asset to Wake Forest University School of Medicine.

Kevin Brewer

Without Kevin, I never would have made it through my first year of medical school." Quotes from countless students like this tell the story of how important and helpful Kevin has been to us as an academic computing specialist. As the first few classes in the new computer based curriculum advance towards graduation, few have offered their time and commitment like Kevin Brewer. Recently, Kevin has been promoted to Lead Academic Computing Specialist at the Wake Forest University School of Medicine. All of the students at the Wake Forest University School of Medicine offer their thanks and gratitude to Kevin for his tireless efforts to help us all with the many problems we face in this new computerized world.

Gerry Todd

Everybody who has walked in or out of the Hanes building after hours has felt the safety and security that Gerry provides. A class of 2002 student says, "Gerry is also so kind to offer an escort to anyone who is walking to their car at night." But, it is not only safety that Gerry provides. We have all shared a laugh or a smile with Gerry as we leave to go home or come for a long night of studying. Despite his good hearted nature and his wonderful English accent, many do not realize that Gerry was on the British Olympic Judo team and teaches martial arts at his own studio here in North Carolina. Gerry Todd is a thoughtful and kind person who deserves a special thanks from all of us at the Wake Forest University School of Medicine.

Wake Forest School of Medicine was inaugurated in the fall of 1902 as a two-year medical school. Dr. Fred Cooke was named as the first Dean of the medical school and was given a salary of one thousand dollars. Tuition per term was thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents. The goal of the two year medical college was to be "second to none". The school was approved and accepted by the American Medical Association in 1904. The two year curriculum focused on basic science. After completing the course, students went to other institutions to finish their training. On August 4, 1939, the announcement was made of the Bowman Gray gift and the plan to establish Wake Forest as a four-year medical school in association with North Carolina Baptist Hospital. In 1941, Wake Forest Medical School moved from Wake County to Winston-Salem. In the 1940s, the AAMC urged medical schools to initiate an accelerated program to ensure an adequate amount of doctors during the war. This meant that a new class was graduated every nine months! There were early experiments with the curriculum including Saturday clinical correlation clinics for first and second years and basic science courses for third and fourth years. In the 1950s, tuition was nine hundred dollars per year. By 1978, the class size had doubled to 108 students. Throughout the eighties and nineties, the medical school and hospital have continued to change and grow. In 1991, the J. Paul Sticht Center on Aging and Rehabilitation was completed. The school changed its name from Bowman Gray to Wake Forest School of Medicine in 1997. Curriculum changes have also occurred with a change to parallel and traditional paths and then to a new project for excellence curriculum starting with the 2002 graduating class. Wake Forest School of Medicine will continue to grow and evolve over the next hundred years.

"A Gen Med AI is not a good time to plan a wedding--7 Reynolds is definitely not the optimal place to call florists!"

Amanda Kennedy

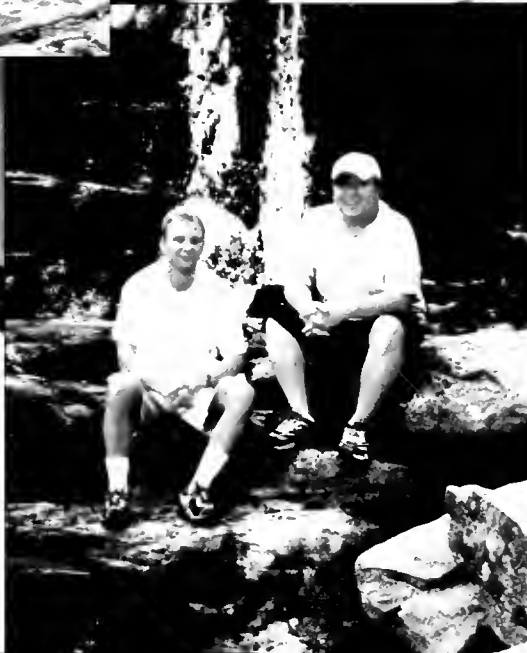

"In medicine, there is NEVER a good time to start a family. William was a complete surprise baby for us but his arrival was a perfect thing!"

Cooper Scurry

Gaudeamus Igitur

"...For this is the day you know too little against the day when you will know too much For you will be invincible and vulnerable in the same breath which is the breath of your patients For their breath is our breathing and our reason For the patient will know the answer and you will ask him ask her
 For the family may know the answer For there may be no answer and you will know too little again or there will be an answer and you will know too much forever
 For you will look smart and feel ignorant and the patient will not know which day it is for you and you will pretend to be smart out of ignorance For you must fear ignorance more than cyanosis For whole days will move in the direction of rain For you will cry and there will be no one to talk to or no one but yourself For you will be lonely
 For you will be alone
 For there is a difference
 For there is no seriousness like joy
 For there is no joy like seriousness For the days will run together in gallops and the years go by fast as the speed of thought which is faster than the speed of light or Superman or Superwoman
 For you will not be Superman
 For you will not be Superwoman For you will not be Solomon but you will be asked the question nevertheless For after you learn what to do, how and when to do it the question will be whether For there will be addictions: whiskey, tobacco, love
 For they will be difficult to cure For you yourself will pass the kidney stone of pain and be joyful
 For this is the end of examinations
 For this is the beginning of testing For Death will give the final examination and everyone will pass

I n t r o d u c t i o n

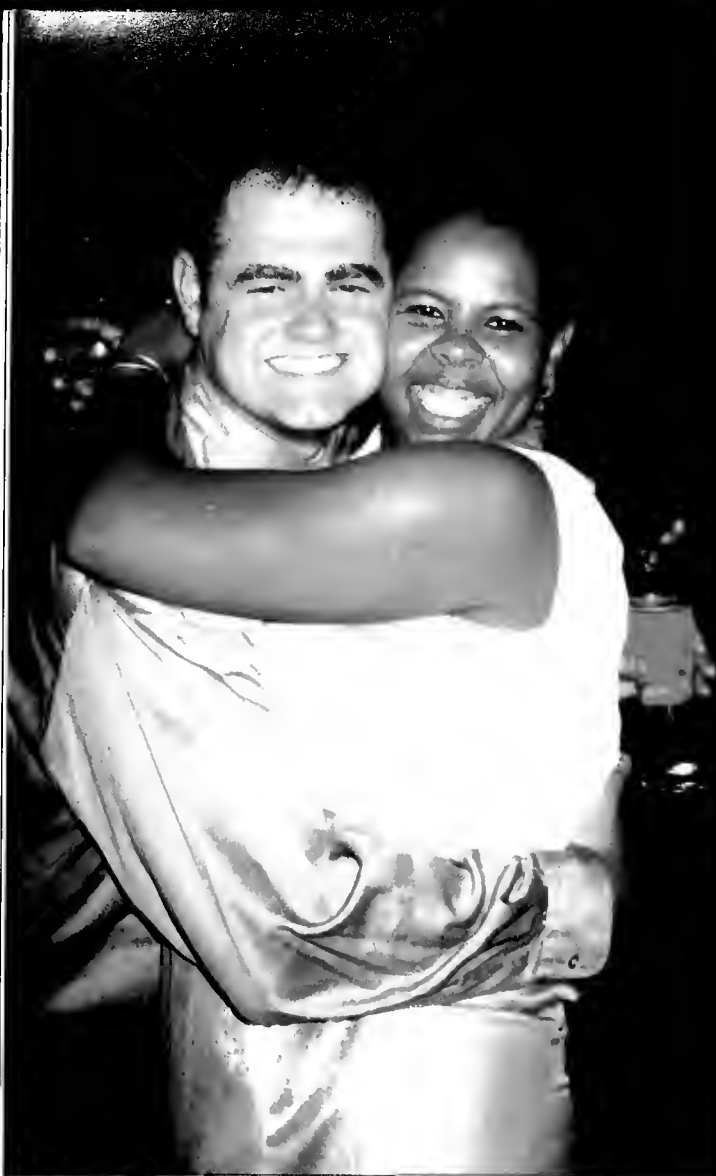

"I loved my surgery rotation and was almost swayed to go into general surgery. However, I know my calling in medicine is to take care of women and so I decided to do OBGYN."

Lora Kelly

"Although I knew I wanted to be a doctor, I have unexpectedly loved medical school. I chose Medicine because I want to specialize and stay in academics."

Elizabeth Eagleson

...For there will be the arts and some will call them soft data whereas in fact they are the hard data by which our lives are lived For everyone comes to the arts too late For you can be trained to listen only for the oboe out of the whole orchestra For you many need to strain to hear the voice of the patient in the thin reed of his crying For you will see most acutely out of the corner of your eye to hear best with your inner ear For there are late signs and early signs For the patient's story will come to you like hunger, like thirst For you will know the answer like second nature, like first For the patient will live and you will understand For you will be amazed or the patient will not live and you will try to understand For you will be baffled For you will try to explain both, either to the family For there will be laying of the hands and the letting go For love is what death would always intend if it had the choice
 For the fever will drop, the bone remold along its lines of force the speech return the mind remember itself For there will be days of joy For there will be elevators of elation and you will walk triumphantly in purest joy along the hall of the hospital and say Yes to all the dark corners where no one is listening For the heart will lead For the head will explain but the final common pathway is the heart whatever kingdom may come For what matters finally is how the human spirit is spent For this is the day of joy
 For this is the morning to rejoice
 For this is the beginning Therefore, let us rejoice

—John Stone, Cardiologist

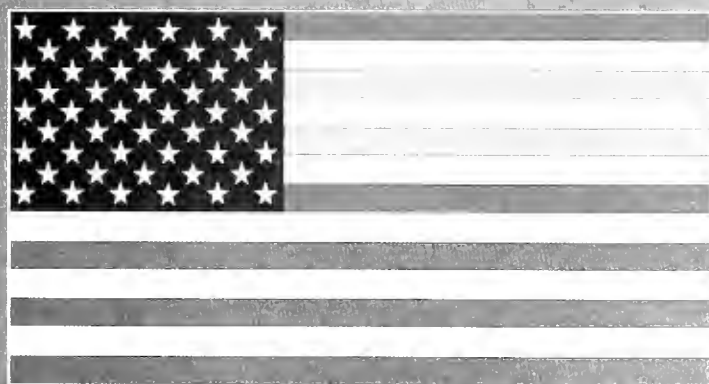

This day was undoubtedly a tragic one in both our nation's and the world's experience. Hopefully, we can all move forward to find peace and solace in spite of this horrible incident. This page is to serve as a small honorarium to all of us — especially those intimately affected by the events of September 11, 2001.

AWARD FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE

Awarded by the Academic Faculty, Medical School Administration and Student Body

LAURENCE GIVNER

Dr. Givner is a Professor of Pediatrics specializing in infectious diseases at Wake Forest University School of Medicine. He received his undergraduate degree from Temple University and earned his Doctorate in Medicine from the University of Maryland School of Medicine in Baltimore, Maryland. He continued at the University of Maryland as a resident and Chief Resident in Pediatrics. He did his fellowship in Pediatric Infectious Diseases at Baylor College of Medicine. He first came to Bowman Gray School of Medicine in 1985 where he has served as Chief of Pediatric Infectious Diseases, Medical Director of the Pediatric Inpatient Unit, and Vice Chair for Clinical Affairs for the Department of Pediatrics. He works on many committees including the Student Education Committee and the Faculty and Housestaff Committee. He is a wonderful mentor and role model for all residents and students who have an opportunity to work with him by involving everyone in patient care.

CHARLES B. CLARK MEMORIAL AWARD

For Outstanding Service to the Senior Class

KEVIN BREWER

Kevin Brewer has worked as an Academic Computing Specialist for Wake Forest School of Medicine since the Class of 2002 started with their computers in 1998. He has since been promoted to Lead Academic Computing Specialist which is for good reason. Kevin knows all of the students very well and has helped every student willingly and without hesitation for major and minor computer problems. He is always available and always sending e-mails about updates and warnings. He is an amazing source of information for students and faculty. The Class of 2002 could never have survived a computer based curriculum without him. For this reason, the Class of 2002 wishes to honor him with this award.

post boards party

Although our fourth years take Step 2 earlier than students at other schools, we get the huge reward of a party from the wonderful Medical Alumni Association. This year our party was on July 27, 2001 at the Old Town Club. It was a festive night full of food, wine and dancing. We were not only celebrating another educational milestone but also being fourth years. Our class is known for our ability to have a good time and this night was no exception. May fourth year never end!

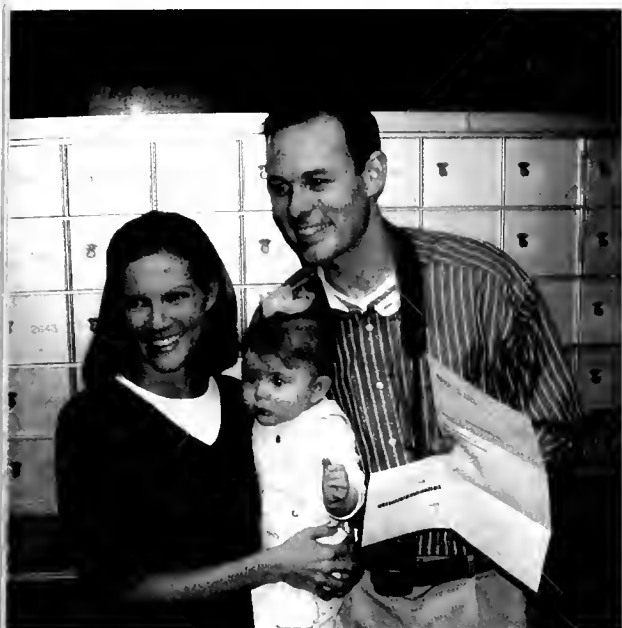

match day

march 21, 2001

Match Day is not just one day. For students matching into the military, Neurology, Urology, ENT and Ophthalmology, the big day happened earlier in the year. For the majority of students in the Class of 2002, however, Match Day was March 21, 2002. After a class sponsored waffle breakfast, the fourth years walked together to their mailboxes to find their letters at noon! Compliments of Student Affairs and the Alumni Association, the class gathered at the Tanglewood Barn and announced their residency location. With a lot more celebrating to do, the class continued to the Tap Room and then finished their day off with the first-ever Match Day all-school party at the Sawtooth Center!

first year orientation

Orientation began on July 30, 2001 at Babcock Auditorium. Orientation week is filled with information sessions about the Medical Alumni Association, the new computers and a preview of the upcoming school year. However, the week is not all work and no play. New students are invited to a Dean's reception which was held at SECCA and the annual school-wide Michael's party to meet other students.
